Exceeding Expectations

MESSAGE FROM
GENERAL MANAGER KATHI CALVERT

AT HOUSTON COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, we strive to exceed your service expectations. Our aptly named member services department is here to ensure just that.

Let's be honest: Electricity is not a glamorous or even tangible product. You don't get to pick a color, and it's not something you can touch, smell or see. You definitely want it when it is 105 degrees outside, but for most people, electricity is simply another bill that comes in the mail. The only time most people option." Without competition, what is our incentive to perform? It's a fair question. The answer is you—our members. You are the owners of HCEC, and we want our owners to be proud of their cooperative.

We have tremendous obstacles to overcome in proving our value, which is why our member services department works so hard. From the moment you walk through our door to apply for service to the point of final disconnection, our goal is to treat all members with dignity and respect.

We recognize that your time is valuable. We have local, knowledgeable and dedicated staff to handle your questions or issues as efficiently as possible. We also realize that not all members want to call or visit us. Some members prefer other forms of interaction. That's why we have expanded ways for reaching out to us to include text messaging and the HCEC app. We continue to provide more online service options as well as communication through social media channels.

Another advantage of our locally staffed member services department is that we often have more flexibility than other businesses in addressing problems as they arise. You are not just another call statistic or faceless customer paying a bill. If you have a problem, we listen to you and seek solutions. This does not mean we show favoritism; we have policies and rules in place to ensure equitable treatment of members. However, we typically have more discretion than large, investor-owned utilities in resolving issues.

It is an honor to work with our member services department. I often hear them on the phone or see them assisting a member in person, and they inspire me with their kind and helpful attitude. This group of talented individuals reminds me daily of our sole purpose: We are here to serve you.

The member services group is another important piece of the HCEC puzzle. They strive to make our member-owners feel proud to be a part of the cooperative difference!

consider the convenience of electricity is when there is a power outage. We rarely hear of anyone who is excited about buying more electricity.

On top of electricity's being a uniquely nebulous product, a large portion of our territory is in a singly certificated service area. That means if you want electric service, we are the only provider. No one proclaims, "Oh, I wish we only had one Lineman's Rodeo in Seguin, where we were excited to showcase our first journeyman team, along with our apprentices and cooking team. If you've never heard of the Texas Lineman's Rodeo, picture a conventional rodeo, but instead of chutes and bulls, there are poles and climbing gear. It requires tremendous skill and coordination to work while hanging off a pole in 100-degree heat wearing rubber gloves. We are proud of our linemen.

A LOOK INTO THE MEMBER SERVICES DEPARTMENT

At Houston County Electric Cooperative, our members are our No. 1 priority. You have a dedicated member services department focused on quality service and striving to exceed your expectations. Our member services employees are not just voices on the other end of the phone in a faraway place; they are people who work, live and volunteer in the communities that HCEC serves.

Sarah Goolsby, member services supervisor, has been at HCEC for 12 years. She has implemented many different programs, including prepaid billing, consumer communications, HCEC's mobile app, recurring credit card payments and paperless billing, just to name a few.

Sarah Goolsby, Member Service Supervisor

Cody Hammons joined HCEC this year and specializes in bill assistance services for members. She lends a helping hand to members during times of need. Hammons is one of the voices you hear on the other end of the phone when you call us.

Cody Hammons, Member Service Rep

Chances are, if you've been to our office, you've met our new cashier, Aurora Ibarra. She's responsible for the daily balance of the cash drawer and assisting with members' needs when they visit our office. Ella también habla español.

Aurora Ibarra, Cashier

Kelby Koehler started at HCEC in July 2014. As communications specialist, her focus is educating members on the cooperative difference. She manages our website and social media, and is your Texas Co-op Power local pages designer.

Kelby Koehler, Communications Specialist

Ruth Millhouse has been with HCEC since December 2016. She assists members with service requests, connecting and disconnecting meters, and billing inquiries. Ella también es bilingüe en inglés y español. Ruth is also a U.S. Army veteran.

Ruth Millhouse, Member Service Rep

Dean Shupak has been with HCEC for 11 years. He currently specializes in new accounts, handles members' service requests and assists with the connection and disconnection of meters.

Dean Shupak, Member Service Rep

Megan Spellman has been with HCEC for more than three years. She handles our Viasat satellite internet service and prepaid billing accounts, assists in monthly billing processes and accommodates members daily with billing

FAQ: What Is the PCRF on My Bill?

The Power Cost Recovery Factor is in place because Houston County Electric Cooperative purchases power from a wholesaler then distributes it to the members. The PCRF fluctuates with the wholesale cost of generating power. This cost fluctuation is passed to members solely based on our cost. There is no margin in the PCRF.

WHY WE LOVE WORKING FOR YOU:

"I love being able to test and deploy different options for our members. I love projects. There are always ways to improve member service, and we want to make things as easy as possible. We are all here to serve you!" Sarah Goolsby

"Someone once said, 'In a world where you can be anything, be kind.' When I think of my job at HCEC and the members I serve, I am reminded daily that we are all fighting battles. If I can help someone in any way, I feel like I have succeeded!"

Cody Hammons

"There are so many wonderful things about working for HCEC. I mainly enjoy meeting and helping the members that come in our office, as well as the family that I have created by working here."

Aurora Ibarra

"There are so many things I enjoy, but the most important to me would have to be educating members on why the cooperative difference matters and the benefits of being a member-owner. A tie for second would be the school visits and creating the monthly content for Texas Co-op Power magazine!

Kelby Koehler

"Psalms 107:1 says, 'Start each day with a grateful heart.' I start each day grateful to work at HCEC with the member-owners. I enjoy helping them with their service requests, and I feel accomplished when I solve any problems they may have!"

Ruth Millhouse

"I enjoy that friendships have been created with members I have assisted at one time or another in my career."

Dean Shupak

"I love working for a company that plays such a huge role in the communities that it serves and takes care of their employees."

HCEC SEASONAL SAVINGS NOW AVAILABLE!

Out with the old and in with the new

Get a special HCEC discount on a Nest thermostat and use 5-10 percent less electricity for heating and cooling* when you sign up for the Seasonal Savings program.

How it works:

- 1. Seasonal Savings will schedule a tune-up in summer by automatically making small changes to some temperatures to make them more efficient. It learns your temperature preferences and will find ways to save energy without compromising comfort.
- 2. When it is adjusting temperatures, the changes it makes are subtle—just a fraction of a degree each day. Over the course of the entire tune-up period, the changes typically add up to about 1 degree.
- 3. Seasonal Savings will still let you be in control. If you don't like a temperature that it has set for you, you can simply change it—your thermostat will learn the new temperature as well as your comfort preferences!
